

The Turning Bridge Managed Service Solution

Turning Bridge delivers a comprehensive solution that addresses laundry related problems plaguing the healthcare and hospitality industry. Today, companies who generate laundry are forced to either build their own laundries or outsource laundry to a laundry service or linen supply company. By outsourcing, customers often create new complexities and risky dependencies, which can jeopardize quality and lower flexibility for their business. In-sourced operations are capital intensive, difficult to manage, and tend to cost more to operate when compared to outsourcing. The Turning Bridge managed service solution enables companies to retain a certain level of control over how the laundry is processed, yet still capitalize on the benefits of outsourcing. Each solution is unique, flexible and aligns perfectly with the objectives of our customers.

At Turning Bridge, deciding how to deal with the laundry becomes less about in-sourcing and outsourcing, rather, about designing an optimal laundry solution without bias towards facility location, linen ownership or equipment.

At Turning Bridge deciding how to deal with the laundry becomes less about in-sourcing and outsourcing, rather, about designing an optimal laundry solution without bias towards facility location, linen ownership or equipment. In the end, we may manage a customized laundry operation we develop long term, or create a turn-key solution that a customer can operate internally over time if they desire.

